

An aerial photograph of a forested landscape, likely a mountainous region. A prominent red line with arrows indicates a path or route, starting from the left edge and extending towards the bottom right. The terrain is covered in dense green forest, with some lighter-colored patches indicating cleared areas or roads. Several small white labels with black text are visible, including 'K2.1', 'K2.2', 'K2.3', 'K3.1', and 'K3.2'. The map is partially obscured by a large white rectangular area in the bottom left corner.
